FACTS

Why?
Financial companies choose how they share your personal information. Federal law gives consumers the right to limit some but not all sharing. Federal law also requires us to tell you how we collect, share, and protect your personal information. Please read this notice carefully to understand what we do.

What?
The types of personal information we collect and share depend on the product or service you have with us. This information can include:
- Social Security number and checking/credit card account information
- Account transactions and account balances
- Payment history and credit history

How?
All financial companies need to share customers’ personal information to run their everyday business. In the section below, we list the reasons financial companies can share their customers’ personal information; the reasons Nelnet chooses to share; and whether you can limit this sharing.

Who we are

Who is providing this notice? Nelnet, its affiliates,* and subsidiary entities maintained for purposes of holding loans.

What we do

| How does Nelnet protect my personal information? | To protect your personal information from unauthorized access and use, we use security measures that comply with federal law. These measures include computer safeguards and secured files and buildings. |
| How does Nelnet collect my personal information? | We collect your personal information, for example, when you:
- Open an account or provide account information
- Apply for financing or pay your bills
- Give us your contact information
We also collect your personal information from others, such as credit bureaus, affiliates, or other companies. |
| Why can’t I limit all sharing? | Federal law gives you the right to limit only:
- Sharing for affiliates’ everyday business purposes—information about your creditworthiness
- Affiliates from using your information to market to you
- Sharing for nonaffiliates to market to you
State laws and individual companies may give you additional rights to limit sharing. See below for more on your rights under state law. |

Other important information

Vermont residents - We will automatically manage accounts with Vermont addresses as if the account holder has directed us not to share with both affiliates and nonaffiliates. You may opt in and provide your consent using the contact method described in the “To limit our sharing” section.

California residents - We will automatically manage accounts with California addresses as if the account holder has directed us not to share with nonaffiliates. You may opt in and provide your consent using the contact method described in the “To limit our sharing” section.
